Hello!

I am Munchy. I am a raccoon. Raccoons live in North America. We eat both plants and animals. We like many types of fruits like grapes, cherries and apples, and we also like eating nuts. We eat fish and eggs as well, so we are good climbers and good swimmers. We are clever and can solve problems. We are friendly, and sometimes we live in cities.

It is Munchy's first birthday.
Munchy is very happy; he thinks that he is now old enough to go to the lakeside on his own.

“Mum, may I go to the lakeside to get some fruits for dinner?”

“Sure, you can go,” says Mum.

Scene 1

: It is Munchy's birthday. His mother brings him a nice present and makes him a delicious cake.

: Happy birthday, Munchy! Do you like your present?

: Thank you, Mum. I really like this basket. Can I go to the lakeside to gather some fruits in my new basket?

: Sure! Now you are old enough to go and get us some fruits for dinner.

: I will gather the sweetest apples and cherries in the forest.

Scene 2

: Munchy takes his new basket and walks to the lakeside to gather some apples and cherries.

Cheerfully smile and say hello,

It is what you should always do.

Be kind and smile at everyone,

Say "Hi" aloud; it sounds fun.

They will be happy and cheerful too.

And surely smile back at you.

Cheerfully smile and say hello,

It is what you should always do.

Never hold a stick, frown, or shout,

If you are at home or somewhere out.

You will have friends if you are friendly,

So be kind and nice and smile gently.

Cheerfully smile and say hello,

It is what you should always do.
